Agenda subject to changes

Paperless Lab Academy®

Plenary session of rich-content

The plenary session is composed of presentations from digital transformation project leaders, final users, though leaders of the industry, matter experts keynote speakers from the industry sharing their experience and project status. We actively work to avoid commercial content in this session. The agenda aims for active and interactive discussions.

Product deep dive workshops

Several breakdown sessions are organised for our sponsors, where they present their latest industry news in a one-hour open session. As subject matter experts, they will bring their latest solutions (products and/or services) and share with you their experience and knowledge to support your specific needs.

Networking with the experts

The Paperless Lab Academy® brings together several solution providers in the exhibition hall and offers you a good overview of current and future trends. An excellent combination of well-known international suppliers in the laboratory informatics industry and new companies coming up with new innovative proposals.
A true showcase space with quality networking opportunities.

What they say about the PLA

Satisfaction surveys and feedback from our visitors are extremely valuable to us in improving quality, delivery and experience every year.

TESTIMONIALS

The Paperless Lab Academy® remains an important platform for exchange and sharing for us and we will do our best to maintain Danone's involvement in the agenda. Actually, we are also very interrested by the webinars being organised.

I am impressed by how the Paperless Lab Academy® event has grown year over year. It is for me an authoritative source of information that helps me stay current with market trends and anything that matters in the industry, not to mention the excellent networking opportunities

We have spent 2 very interesting days professionally speaking and very pleasant thanks to the organisation, company and location.

DANONE ONE PLANET. ONE HEALTH

Boehringer Ingelheim

Chiesi People and ideas for innovation in healthcare

The conference, expertly organized in a pleasing venue, provided a great blend of plenary sessions and interactive workshops, along with good networking opportunities to interact with industry peers and solution providers. We hold the overall level of the presentations to the highest standard, having enjoyed the contributions from thought leaders, fellow peers from the pharmaceutical industry and other areas of expertise. Our sincerest compliments on the quality of the event – it´s ranked as the best lab informatics conference we attended
